Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good my remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not expect any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used, I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was, to give it a trial." For sale by John M. Rose.

A Mr. Lane living near Maytown was adjudged insane by Judge Carson.

KENTUCKY ITEMIZED.

A RESUME OF THE IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Things of a Noisy Nature Rolled Down to Suit the Convenience of the Hasty Reader—Kentucky Down to Date.

Hog cholera is killing the swine in Knott county.

An unknown man was killed by a train near Hopkinsville.

The unknown "Jack the Dog Killer" is still abiding in Morgantown.

The new Bible college building at Lexington is nearly ready for occupancy.

The Union College at Barbourville has opened for the fall term with bright prospects.

The grand jury at Whitesburg returned 160 indictments, two-thirds being for killing fish.

The Fleming News is again being published just as of yore. It is a good paper and deserves to succeed.

W. A. Baird, an anti Blackburn man, was nominated by Daviess county Democrats for representative.

The new Methodist church recently completed at Trace Branch, in Knox county, was dedicated Sunday.

The Kentucky University and State College at Lexington opened the fall terms Tuesday.

A penalty will be added on unpaid county taxes in a few days, and this fact is hurrying up tax payers.

There has been a 25 per cent. increase in the attendance at the Vanderbilt training school at Elkton this season.

At Owensboro H. N. Robinson filed suit against John Bell for $10,000 damages for malicious prosecution.

The members of the Crockett family in Kentucky will attend the meeting of the Crockett Clan, at Alamo, Tenn., September 17.

A Flemingsburg man baled one thousand bales of hay last week which he purchased for $6 a ton. He will ship it east and will realize a snug profit on his investment.

Fires have been started in one of the furnaces of the Watts Steel and Iron plant at Middleboro, for the purpose of drying it out. This furnace will go into blast in about ten or fifteen days.

Too many people move to town with the expectation of getting positions as clerks or some employment where no manual labor is required, says the Columbia Spectator, when in fact the boys are more adapted for rail splitters, having muscles like prize fighters. After laying around town for a year or two waiting for soft snaps, these boys finally develop into chronic loafers.

Don't put up the score-board or the notch-stick until this from Lester, in Knott county, is recorded: "A sixty-one pound catfish was caught out of one of the mountain streams up here last week with a plow line and grab hooks." For the early fall season this does very well. Later on when the water is in better condition a "century weight" may be entered to the credit of this locality. Winchester heads off this man with a 165-pound catch.

Louisville is filled to overflowing with the G. A. R. Veterans. Two-hundred-thousand already occupy the city, and each hour brings thousands more. Fully 75,000 veterans fell into line on Wednesday and paraded the streets of the color bedecked city. The veterans are being royally entertained and Louisville has cause to congratulate herself on the happy and hospitable manner in which she ministered to their comforts.

Cecil-Swango.

One of the prettiest weddings that has occurred in Hazel Green for some time took place at the Christian Church on Thursday evening last, when Mr. Will Cecil, of Cedar Bluff, Va., led to the altar Miss Ida Swango, one of Hazel Green's fairest and most worthy young ladies. The church was crowded with the friends of the young couple and was tastefully decorated with potted flowers, while two arches formed of vines and flowers and containing the names of the bride and groom added a delicate beauty to the scene. There were six attendants, the ladies being tastefully and becomingly attired in elegant costumes, the gentlemen dressing in conventional black. Rev. Harrison tied the nuptial knot. Mrs. Cord presided at the organ.

Mr. Cecil, the groom, has been a visitor to our little city for a number of years, is a most worthy young gentleman, and counts his friends by his acquaintances. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. Calvin Swango, deceased, and she will be sadly missed by her many friends here.

The young couple left on Friday for the home of the groom, where they will reside. The best wishes of all follow them and THE HERALD joins hosts of others in wishing them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

Peculiar to Itself.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, in a strictly medicinal sense, in three important particulars, viz., first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are mixed; third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the preparation are secured. These three important points make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar in its medicinal merit, as it accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

But is it not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.

Mr. A. C. Nickel has moved his steam mill to this creek and located on the farm of James Anderson, one mile here. Robt. L. Banks is also talking of setting his mill one mile above here on the Banks farm. We hope he will, as these two mills would add considerably to this vicinity.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25 cents.

John Wallis Jones, of Morgan county, has accepted a place in the wood shops of Rose & Davis. He will move his family over in a few days.

"The first wealth is health," said the Concord philosopher, and he was right. What's wealth without a sound body and strong nerves to enjoy life? The root of the whole trouble is usually the liver. We strongly advise our readers who are troubled with sick-headache, dizziness or sour stomach, to try Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills. They are working wonderful cures in this vicinity. Only 25 cents at the drug store. Sample dose free.

KILLING IN ELLIOTT.

DREW McDANIELS KILLED BY MACK AND WILLIAM ATKINS.

They Were Making Ties in the Woodland and Quarrelled Over a Division of Dishes. McDaniels Was Seized From Behind and Struck With an Axe.

News was received of the killing of Drew McDaniels by Mack and William Atkins, in Elliott county, 17 miles from Morehead. They had been making ties in the woods, living and cooking together in a shanty, and Monday they concluded to separate, and a fight occurred over the division of the dishes. One word brought on another, when it is said one of the Atkins struck at McDaniels, who grabbed a club, and one of the Atkins drew a revolver, while the other picked up a double-edged ax and started at McDaniels. Atkins fired five shots at McDaniels. When the smoke had cleared away McDaniels' head was found in one part of the room and his body in the other. No bullet wound was found on McDaniels' body. The sheriff of Elliott county and posse are now out searching for the Atkinses.

Mack Atkins killed his wife and father in Nicholas county about 10 years ago, for which he served a few years in the penitentiary. Bill Atkins killed a man about two years ago on Christy Creek, about five miles from Morehead. He literally chopped him to pieces with an ax. Bill Atkins is the ring-leader in the Atkins-Nichols feud, which had existed in Elliott county for 10 years.

Collector's Sale.

By virtue of warrant of distraint, which issued from the office of C. H. Rhodes, Collector of the 8th District, at Richmond, Ky., directed to me, I will, on Saturday, the 21st day of September, 1895, expose to public outcry for cash in hand, at A. F. Byrd's old law office on Main street in the town of Campton, Wolfe county, Ky., five casks of whisky, containing about 35 gallons, levied upon by me as the property of J. H. Brown & Co. Hours of sale between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

S. M. TUTT, D. C.

Sept. 7th, 1895.

In your blood is the cause of that tired, languid feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood and gives renewed vigor.

Snag Finnerly was a lad with a philosophical mind and a broken tooth, says the New York World. It was this "broken tooth," as he called it, that gave him this pretty little pet name of "Snag."

They were standing on a corner one day when a hot-tamale man passed. "I wonder," said Snag, "what ever made 'em call dem things tomatoes?" "Don't you know?" asked Mickey. "Naw! nor you don't needer." "Yes, I does and I'll tell yer if yer wants ter know. Dye know Cally Finnerly?" "Yep." "Well, Cally was er goin' up der Bowery one night wid his gal and she said she was hungry. Cull had der price, so he gets gay and says 'come on' and drags her inter a restaurant and sits her down ter table. Up comes der waiter and says: 'What d'youse want?' Der gal's name was Mollie and she says she wants er nice hot sausage an' er cup er coffee. Cull says he wants a cold sausage and er bottle er beer. Der mitg wants to git dat order straight, so he says: 'Jist say dat again.' So Cull says: 'Der hot ter Mollie and der cold ter Cally, see?' Well, he goes away saying to himself: 'Hot ter Mollie, cold ter Cally,' so at he'll git it right. When he comes back with it he says: 'Here's yer hot ter Mollie.'"

"Sure? Aw, go on." "Dat's right; so ever since dat time they calls 'em hot ter mollias." "Say," said Snag, "I'd like ter jist carve my initials into o'den hot ter mollias right now—talkin' about eatin' alius makes me hungry." And the pair disappeared around the corner in search of something to eat.

Heremads in Folk Lore. All the world over there are legends about mermaids. The Chinese tell stories not unlike others about the sea woman of their southern seas. Mermaid is taught on the most excellent evidence that a mermaid was captured at Bangor on the shores of the Belfast Lough, in the sixth century, while another caught at Adam in 1460, was carried to Haarlem and kept there for many years.

R. T. TYLER, of Fulton.

For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.

For Secretary of State,
HENRY S. HALE, of Graves.

ED PORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.

ION B. NALL, of Louisville.
For the Legislature—91st District,
JOSEPH C. LYKINS,
OF Wolfe.

The Kentucky Heathen, C. C. Moore, is in trouble again. This time the United States authorities are after him for sending obscene literature through the mails.

Since the mills of the country have resumed operation, and wages have been voluntarily advanced by the mill owners the calamity howlers, like Othello, find their occupation gone. Their discordant yelp is heard no more, and peace and plenty have settled over the entire land. And to the Democratic party is due this era of prosperity.

Gen. Simon B. Buckner, the "sage of Glen Lily," and the noblest Roman of them all, has withdrawn from the senatorial race, and will work for the success of the state ticket this fall. The race for United States senator has narrowed down to Blackburn and McCreary, and its a "toss up" who will come under the wire first—if either.

The Louisville Commercial says that a series of joint debates will be arranged between Judge Swango and Col. Reynolds, Democratic and Republican candidates for register of the land office. Their list of dates, so the Commercial says, will be in Eastern Kentucky. Come on Col. Reynolds, we will give you the "proper courtesy" due a Republican.

Bradley will now make a Guerilla canvass of the state. He thinks that with no one to hold him down to truth and facts, that he can beguile "weak-minded" and wavering Democrats to follow him into the Republican camp. But he will get left, for since Hardin has "walloped" him, Wats' stock has gone away up and a solid and united Democracy will make him Kentucky's next governor.

These are the Slogans that kicked Bradley out of the joint debate: "Are you in favor of mixed schools?"

"Do you want the separate coach bill repealed?"

"Will you appoint any colored men to the offices with your gift?"

If he says yes, he offends the white Republicans. If he says no, then the "colored brudder" is out of sorts. It is a sad thing to find one's self in such straits.

The Post and Bradley no doubt would make a good team. One "hoohoo" because it can't be a leader, and the other weeps large salty weeps because he is supposed to be a leader, and can't play his hand.

Kenova has got a new newspaper. It has got so that when a man can gather together a shirt-tail full of type and a lye brush he starts a paper. After a little, the sheriff starts the editor. Thus a glittering dream becomes a glaring nightmare.—Lincoln Citizen.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.) says that "Bradley would do well to resume those joint debates." Billy don't think so, however, as 5 rounds in the ring with Hardin is all he can stand. Bradley was outclassed, that is all. Next time Billy "spars for points," he should get into the light-weight class, and not tackle heavy weights like our Wats.

All honor to Mercer county's gallant son. Against fearful odds, with a large portion of the Democratic press against him, with an aggressive and powerful Republican press fighting him, and with strife and dissections in his own party, he goes up against the acknowledged leader, the shrewdest politician and the most polished and eloquent speaker in the Republican party in Kentucky, and forces him to strike his colors in the sixth debate. Verily, as they say in the mountains, Wats' "a boss."

Col. James Henry Burton is a titled gentleman from the Blue grass, who for years has been what the irreverent would call "a dead game sport." A few nights ago, while he was sleeping, he claims he was awakened by the rustle of wings, and looking up, saw an angel perched upon the foot of the bed. We have heard of the Kentucky colonel seeing most everything after partaking too freely of the "brew of the still," from blue devils to green monkeys, but this is the first time we have ever heard of a wanderer from realms celestial interviewing a follower of Bacchus. Anderson county whisky must be an extra fine quality.

Bradley's gentle spirit is too exquisitely attuned for this mundane sphere; the shuffling of the feet of a mighty throng grates harshly upon his ear, and the noise incident to great gatherings tries his patient soul, and causes hysteria, while the unkind, though truthful things, that Hardin said of his party, touched the well spring of his heart and the salty tears flowed in such profusion that his constituents feared that Billy had absorbed all the water in Salt river on his last trip up. Yes, Billy is too tender a plant to be exposed to the rude winds of political adversity, and he will find sweet consolation after November, in the shades of political oblivion.

In a column write-up in the Mt. Sterling Journal of the advantages of that city, it heads the list with "a city jail." The genial editor of the Journal is an enthusiastic worker for the success of his town, but a boom article with the city jail for a leader, gets away with us. Now, if he really wanted to advertise Mt. Sterling's calaboose as a place where the "wicked cease from troubling and the 'jagged' are at rest," he ought to put a half-tone cut of "mine host Pat" at the head of the article. Pat's mug would draw the water out of a well, and we are sure if the Journal will take our little hint, "Castle Shanman" will be as full as the boarders at that institution generally are.

"Silver Dick" Bland, the cheap money man of Missouri, says he won't come to Kentucky and help "Jo," because the Democratic platform of Kentucky declares for sound money. Kentucky ought to shake hands with herself for this forbearance on the part of the cheap money statesman, for with Stewart, Sibley, Bland, Blackburn and other free silver chin peddlers at large in her borders, a "talked-to-death" epidemic is liable to result and kill off half the population.

THE HERALD.

Mrs. J. E. Brooks is on the sick list.

There are no vacant houses in Hazel Green.

Ladies, call on Mrs. Fred Day for a nice silk umbrella.

Miss Mary Jane Tyler is very sick at the home of her father.

J. H. Swango made a flying trip to Winchester last Saturday and Sunday.

See the change of schedule on the K. & S. A. in our Rothwell letter.

Chas. O'Connell, of THE HERALD, made a flying trip to Mt. Sterling Tuesday.

Call on Mrs. Fred Day for the newest thing in fall hats, the beaver crown sailor.

Several of our cattle buyers have gone to the markets with good droves of cattle.

Next week is circuit court and the boys will be conspicuous by their absence.

The corn crop this year is estimated at 600,000,000 bushels in excess of last year.

Three of Lauder Brooks' children have typhoid fever. Dr. Nickell is treating them.

Call on Mrs. Fred Day for ready made shirt waists, shirt-waist sets, link cuff buttons, etc.

John Rose and Taylor Caskey put a three-year-old colt each in the training stables last week.

Wm. Cruey has fifteen acres of crab grass that he will mow this year. He says it makes fine hay.

Miss Etta Kannels arrived last Saturday and was at her old post of duty at the Academy on Monday.

Look out for the Flying Dutchman that will be here at the fair. She is run by steam and plays a pipe organ.

Mrs. Fred Day has just received a nice line of fall millinery and notions, and the ladies should call and see her.

Little Pearl Day who has been under treatment at Cincinnati for her eyes, has returned home very much improved.

W. H. Cord's subject Sunday morning will be "Following Christ." All are invited to attend.

The pastures in the bluegrass are very fine and will probably last 'till December. This one fact will keep cattle at a premium.

Judge G. B. Swango and wife are in Louisville this week attending the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Henry Pieratt's bay mare, Mary, is doing some pretty work on the track. John Chapey, who is driving her, says she will be a winner.

The proceedings of the Wolfe County Teachers' Institute are unavoidably crowded out of this issue. They will appear next week.

Ant Sallie Trimble is still very low and her end seems only a matter of time. The physicians give up all hopes for her recovery.

Louisville will be a little crowded this week with 400,000 visitors within her gates. This is the first G. A. R. encampment held south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt is now able to sit on the front porch of his residence and greet his friends who pass, all of whom are glad to see him out after his protracted illness.

Mrs. Levi Kash, Jr., died at her home on Monday night last after an illness of only a few days. THE HERALD extends sympathies to the bereaved husband in this his sad hour.

Miss Sabina Taulbee entertained a number of friends at dinner Wednesday, in honor of the 40th anniversary of her father's birth. Messrs. Sherman Cope and Henry Taulbee and Misses Lila and Mary Weeden, of Jackson, were present.

Next Monday the September term of the Wolfe Circuit Court convenes. The grand jury should look after our roads, as the overseers have thus far failed to do their duty.

J. T. Day has moved his saw mill from Lacy Creek to a site just above the bridge at Hazel Green. He will saw several millions feet of lumber to be shipped to Toronto.

There were five marriages at West Liberty last week in one day, which breaks all previous records. Thus were made ten minds with not a single thought, ten hearts that beat for fun.

Owing to a rush of job work THE HERALD is out one day behind this week. W. F. Chatham, of Mt. Sterling, is with us now and we hope to be on time at every issue in the future.

Miss Fannie Gay Ingles, of Paris, arrived Wednesday and will begin a class in music next week. She was musical instructor at the Academy last year and had a very progressive class.

Dr. J. Mason Kash, who has been at Forks of Elkhorn for two weeks with a view of locating there, says he is well pleased with the outlook and will probably move his family there in the near future. His patrons will be sorry to give him up.

J. G. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, is much pleased with the outlook in Montgomery county for the Hazel Green fair. He says that a great many people from his town will be on the ground's and all are anticipating a fine time.

THE HERALD has a young attorney in its employ who has thought all along that "settling up" was the hardest thing for an embryo lawyer to do. He now concludes that settling down is a much tougher job. Pity he couldn't do both.

Killie Puckett, erstwhile Police Judge of Toronto, came very near being burned out of house and home a few days since. While cooking a mess of pottage the rear end of his kitchen took fire and it was with much difficulty that the flames were extinguished.

Mr. Edwards, vice president of the Indian Creek Coal company, and J. Taylor Day will hold a conference in Mt. Sterling Monday with a view to extending the coal road to the mouth of Indian creek. Both are large owners of timber in that section and it is thought that the extension will be made.

Lightning Hot Drops—What a Funny Name! Very True, but it Kills All Pain. Sold Everywhere. Every Day—Without Relief, There is No Pay!

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by John M. Rose.

Asa B. Pieratt, of Ezel, is a coming Democrat and one whose influence and usefulness to the party's cause will soon be felt. His letter to the Courier-Journal defining the position of the mountain Democracy in reference to General Hardin and the currency was a scorching and no doubt had an influence on that great journal as to the policy best to pursue in the coming campaign.

A few nights ago a dog with a rope around his neck invaded the porch of Dr. — of our town, whereupon the doctor pulled himself out of bed and gave chase to his doggie for an even quarter, and that, too with his nether anatomy wholly uncovered. The doctor thought the dog had stolen his bride.

We would be glad if our friends would give us any items of interest that may fall under their observation. Don't let the dignity (?) of the editor bluff you off, just tell him when you have news and tell him, whether he wants to hear it or not. All such little favors are appreciated by a newspaper man, and it helps to make lighter the burden that he habitually "rotes" around with him.

Our Own People

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"When our baby was three weeks old he broke out with sores which the doctor called a severe case of eczema. We tried everything that we could think of but he failed to get relief. We consulted several doctors but their medicine was of no avail. Seeing a similar case which had been

Cured by Hood's

Sarsaparilla we determined to try it. I procured some of this medicine and it proved to be the only thing which gave satisfaction. Our child is now two years and eight months old and weighs 40 pounds. He is a sprightly lad and is very fleshy. He has been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This has proved a celebrated case in this vicinity and his cure has been a surprise to all those who know about it." J. T. WHALEY, Hazel Green, Kentucky.

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. Be sure to get Hood's and only Hood's. Do not be induced to buy any other.

ELECTROPOISE.

Rev. John I. Rogers, Danville, Ky. It is a mystery to me, almost a miracle. Rev. Z. Meek, Callettsburg, Ky. I have used the Electropoise for two years and find it invaluable as a curative agent, especially in cases of feeble women and delicate children. Rev. Robert Barrett, Louisville Baptist Seminary. Electropoise cured after all other remedies failed. Rev. W. W. Bruce, Hustonville, Ky. Electropoise cured my habit. Rev. Geo. Means, Covington, Ky. In one night the Electropoise relieved brain congestion and vertigo.

We could fill this paper with similar reports, but think this sufficient to interest you in seeking for relief on the subject of health. Electropoise treated four months for $10.00.

Death of Elder J. A. Howard.

The sad intelligence of the death of Elder J. A. Howard reached us yesterday, and it is with a profound sorrow that we chronicle his death. He returned from Morehead several weeks ago after a successful series of meetings in Rowan county. Shortly after he was taken sick, but at the August meeting at Ezel he was able to preach by sitting in a chair in the pulpit. He was taken worse on the following day and after a lingering of more than five weeks with typhoid fever, he finally succumbed to the grim monster of death and passed over the river. Thus passed away one of the most successful evangelists that has ever lived among us. THE HERALD extends sympathies to the bereaved wife and children, and may they find solace in these beautiful words of the poet: "There is no death! What seems so is transition; This life of mortal breath Is but a suburb of the life elysian, Whose portal we call death."

Mrs. John Davis has returned from a two weeks' visit to her father, on Licking river.

BILLY KNOCKED OUT.

A REPORT OF THE "SCRAP" BY ROUNDS.

Bradley's Second Throw in the Sponges in the Beginning of the Sixth Round Carried to His Corner, Where He Was Copiously.

The great political pugilistic contest was abruptly finished at Madison last Friday by W. O. Bradley throwing up the sponge and leaving P. Wat Hardin undisputed master of the field. The following is an account by rounds:

Round 1.—Both contestants sprang into the ring at the call of time, Hardin wearing his same old emblem, the Rooster, while Bradley sported his new and untried ones, the Log Cabin and Lion Skin. Each man came up smiling and looked confident. Hardin led off with his new "Silver Stroke," but failed to land, while Bradley as a return delivered a full "gold rib-roaster," which with telling effect upon Hardin's unprotected side. Each man then fought shy, looking for an opening until the gong sounded. Bradley's stock goes way up after this round and betting all in his favor.

Round 2.—Both men came up smiling, Hardin looking better than in the beginning. Bradley leads for Hardin's "record," but fails to land and is in return treated to one of Hardin's old time honest knock-down arguments. Bradley leads again, but fails to land, while Hardin plants a well-directed blow on Bradley's "wind" and bluster. Gong—Hardin takes stock up and the betting took even.

Round 3.—Hardin comes up first with one of his old time tricks, while Bradley seems a little groggy. Hardin assumes the offensive with Bradley running and falling down to avoid punishment. Hardin presses the fight, landing on Bradley's "wind" several times. Bradley tries to duck and "dodge" and seems to be playing for time. Betting 3 to 1 in favor of Hardin.

Round 4.—As time is called Bradley steps forward, plainly showing the effect of the severe blows which Hardin has been dealing him, and leads with one of his "misstatements," which Hardin gracefully parried and then in rapid succession lands blow of truth and honesty" which soangers Bradley than had the gong not have sounded when it did, it would have been the last of Bradley. Everything is Hardin and the betting is 2 to 1 that Bradley will not last eight rounds.

Round 5.—Hardin shows up smiling without a scratch while Bradley is so weak and groggy from the effect of his punishment that the last two rounds that he is barely able to stand. Hardin proceeds with his annihilator and sends Bradley with "honest statements, truth and facts" all around the ring. Bradley makes weak attempts to defend himself, but to no purpose. Bradley is evenly licked and seems to know he is taken.

Round 6.—Bradley comes to the ring a badly bruised and very punished man, while Hardin seems fresher than at any time of the game. Bradley attempts to make a lead, but catches the cut of Hardin's eye and drops out of the fight forever. Harry Hunter throws up the sponge—Winchester Democrat.

Names of Kentucky Postoffices. You will not have to leave your home of Kentucky if you want to find names that are as odd and curious. For instance, in each county has families in which these names are found: Hogg, Horn, Happy, Holiday, Profit, Democrat, Rockhouse, Rittenwelter, Walkin and Watergate. Some peculiar postoffices found in these counties are: Smooth Creek, Millstone, Paperweight, Rockhouse, Ratterhard and Solomon. They believe in long names up that way, and one poor child struggles under the overpowering cognomen of Robert S. Samuel T. Nelson R. Benjamin P. Hester. In Knott county there is one family which has ten members nicknamed thus: "Stick, Burch, Ham, Hardup, Buck, Dol, Sal, Let, Pol, Bat and Do-em." Leslie county has Mad-dog, Cutshin and Hell-for-Sartin postoffices, and the last named is on Hell-for-Sartin creek, which is said to have been named by early settlers who encountered many tribulations while exploring this particular locality and named the creek accordingly. Pike county comes next with Bass, Batrice, Beehide, Canada, Fish Trap, Home, Joe, John, Lookout, Paw-Paw and Praise postoffices. Elliott has Backbone, Gimlet, Mink, Ordinary and Wyett postoffices. And then, in the language of the song, "There are others, ever so many others."

A Wolfe County Negro Prodigy.

The Louisville Post has the following to say of a negro prodigy and gives Wolfe county as his residence, but if there is such a Senegambian warbler in this neck of the woods, he is unknown to fame in his own bailiwick and we believe, lives only in the imagination of the truthful drummer, and that said imagination must have been awfully distorted by "mountain dew" to weave such a fairy tale:

A little negro with a voice like that of Jennie Lind has been delighting his people of Wolfe county with his singing for some time, and now he is to go to New York to travel with a theatrical company. The pickaninny sang for a drummer several weeks ago and the drummer went to New York and told of the wonderful voice he had heard in the Kentucky mountains. The little negro received a letter last week from the manager of the show asking him to come to New York and join a vaudeville company. The dusky songster was promised a place that would pay him well, and he is going, cottonade trousers, bed ticking stockings and all, as soon as he can get a pass to make the trip on. The boy's name is Zeb Wallace and he doesn't know how well he can warble.

Is Kentucky a Doubtful State?

The peculiar political conditions that exist in Kentucky have led many people to believe that the state is a doubtful one and that the Republicans have a chance to carry it this fall. For this reason there is great interest, both at home and abroad, in accurate and reliable political news from all parts of the state. The Weekly Courier-Journal is now covering this field perfectly, and it is publishing the news without bias or prejudice. A close reader of the Weekly Courier-Journal should be able to forecast in advance what will be the outcome of the state election next November. In addition to giving all the political news and all the news of every kind, the Weekly Courier-Journal is offering to its subscribers $6,000 in cash presents for guesses as to the exact vote that will be received by the Democratic, Republican and Populist candidates for governor of Kentucky. The price of the paper is only one dollar a year. Sample copies containing full details of the cash present plan will be sent free to any address. Write to Courier-Journal Company, Louisville, Ky.

Maj. W. H. Taulbee returned last week from a fortnight's visit to his son and nephew, Drs. J. B. and J. H. Taulbee, of Mt. Sterling.

HARMONIZE AND WIN THE FIGHT.

Extracts From the State Central Committee's Appeal to Democrats.

"In obedience to the resolution recently adopted by the State Central Committee the undersigned earnestly appeal to the patriotism, loyalty and devotion of the Democratic party in the interest of good government and the welfare of the people of Kentucky, to give their united and hearty support to the ticket and platform made by the party at the June convention held in this city."

"Whatever opinions you may hold as for economic questions, whatever differences there may exist relative thereto, we earnestly and sincerely ask you to lay them on the altar of the party, for its safety and success, and unite in one great effort to defeat the Republican party and its nominees."

"Certainly no true Democrat desires the election of the Republican ticket and the defeat of the Democratic ticket."

"The good people of Kentucky surely do not want to try the folly and dangerous experiment of turning over the state and local affairs to the Republican party, nearly one half of which is composed of the negro vote."

"The election of the Republican ticket and surrender of control of our state government to the Republican party means a radical change in our social and public educational conditions that will bring trouble and evil to our people."

"We plead for harmony, charity and forbearance under the broadness of thought and utterance, in a spirit of conciliation, on the part of the Democratic press of the state, and of every Democratic voter throughout the state, for their united action and support of the entire ticket and platform. Let us with one mind, one heart, spirit and purpose, labor for the defeat of the Republican party and its ticket, by a majority so pronounced that Kentucky will become more firmly settled than ever in the Democratic ranks."
